

RESCUE FOLDING KNIFE

Designed & developed in the UK, the Northern Diver Folding Rescue Knife is one of the best and toughest on the market.

Devised to support emergency services, firefighters and fast response teams in their tactical, outdoor marine rescues; our rescue folding knife is great value for money.

Kayakers, rowers, sailors and divers are carrying folding rescue knives in ever increasing numbers. This is so they can self-rescue or help disentangle someone else from a jumble of rigging lines, fishing lines or discarded ropes.

The knife is made from 316 stainless steel (16% chromium, 10% nickel and 2% molybdenum); to help resist corrosion from sea water and de-icing salts (all chloride materials in fact).

This rust resistant stainless steel blade locks in position when opened to avoid accidental blade closure that can often result in injury. With its serrated blade of short sharp teeth, cutting is quick and easy. The rope / webbing / line cutter is specially designed to give a clean cut.

The 3.5inch blade safely sits in the ABS and PU coated handle. The ergonomically designed, curved handle is contoured to fit well in the hand. PU (polyurethane) creates a protective film on the handle, which is in essence a waterproofing treatment and enables the handle to be more resistant to abrasions, kinks and tears.

Conforms to the health and safety requirements stated in Annex II of the PPE Directive 89/686/EEC. To ensure the longevity of your folding rescue knife, we suggest you rinse it in fresh water after it's been used in salt water.
